#118

Ask Right Questions

Many people spend their lives searching for answers…

But true growth begins the moment a person starts asking questions.

“How can I become better?”

“What can I learn from this difficulty?”

“What can I do differently that others are not doing?”

Anyone can give answers…

But only a few have the courage to ask the right questions.

Questions awaken the mind.

Questions reveal new paths.

Questions transform an ordinary person into an extraordinary one.

When Newton asked, “Why did the apple fall downward?”

When Edison asked, “Can darkness be defeated?”

When you ask, “What is the best version of myself?”

That is when your new journey begins.

Remember this…

Answers may comfort you,

But questions will elevate you.

So today, ask yourself one question—

“Am I truly living up to my full potential?”